

Internship PHP Development (m/f)

Greifswalder Str. 207, 10405 Berlin

Our objective at fotograf.de is to kindle the success of professional photographers through our online platform. We have devised innovative features to relieve photographers of laborious tasks, enabling them to devote more time into creating stunning photographs. We are currently Germany's market leader and are going to launch our platform in the UK, France, Sweden and Austria this year.

fotograf.de consists of a young and passionate team, who would love to work with an equally creative and dedicated individual. Our corporate culture is characterised by team spirit, flat hierarchies and of course... fun!

Your responsibilities:

- During your practically oriented training period you will undertake parts of our projects, afterwards you will be:
  - Developing new features such as image processing, QR tagging
  - Extending our platform to fulfil our internationalisation requirements
  - Installing and maintaining a Wordpress CMS to support our marketing
  - Ensuring a good user experience
- Cooperating closely with Gustav, our head of development

Your profile:

- You are currently or have recently finished studying computer science, mathematics, business information technology or a comparable field of study
- Knowledge in several of the following: PHP, HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, SQL, OOP, Twitter Bootstrap or jQuery
- You are proactive, independent and enthusiastic about technology
- You have strong analytical and reasoning abilities as well as having clear understanding and intuition when faced with challenges
- You are capable of rapidly learning and applying new technologies
- You are available for 4-6 months (a special arrangement is possible)

What we offer:

- Continuous work with state of the art web technologies.
- Collaborate in a small professional team of experienced developers where you will contribute to significant projects
- A dynamic working atmosphere, flat hierarchies and a highly motivated and friendly, international team
- Regular team events, fresh fruit, beverages and ice cream
- An international office located in the heart of Berlin (Prenzlauer Berg)
- Photography workshop, in case you are keen on broadening your range of skills
- Working closely with our nice and grateful photographer customers
- Standard remuneration and the possibility of a permanent full-time job offer
